Replacement Parts Objectives

- To reduce customer service costs
- To determine and select components needed for replacement

Intended Audience

Replacement Parts are primarily intended for people who:

- Provide service to customers
- Order replacement components
- Need further product knowledge

Replacement Parts may be of special interest to:

- Training managers
- Direct order entry personnel
- Distributor personnel
- Dealers
- Anyone who services Marvin products

The Replacement Parts sections are designed to make Marvin product replacement part information easy to find and utilize. Used in conjunction with the Marvin Architectural Detail Manual and the Marvin Price Guide, it will provide a library of information on Marvin products.

Each section of the Replacement Parts has a Contents (TOC) page. The line entries are linked to that specific page to assist in locating necessary information for component replacement. If desired, each page also has a "Return to Contents" button that will return the user to the Contents page to start a new search.

Ordering Information

All discontinued limited availability (DISC LA) parts are subject to availability. DISC NA denotes product no longer available.

Numbers in parentheses () following measurements, are metric equivalents in millimeters rounded to the nearest whole number.

All handing information is viewed from the exterior unless otherwise stated.

All measurements listed in Replacement Parts are fractions rounded to the nearest 32nd or 64th inch. These measurements are intended for reference only when ordering a replacement part. If the exact measurement is required, please contact your Marvin sales or service representative.

Marvin Order Management System (OMS)

Non-warranty replacement parts and pieces may be purchased by referencing the part or profile number and the description in OMS.

Pricing

Pricing information can found in OMS or in the Marvin Online Docs Library (MODL) Elevate and Essential Master Parts Price List. The files are available in two formats, Excel and PDF. Prices are subject to change without notice.

Freight

F.O.B. Factory. A customer may request any service offered by United Parcel Service (UPS), U.S. Postal Service (USPS), or Federal Express (FedEx), however, the customer will be charged for actual shipping costs.

(NOTE: lineal part lengths will be cut in half to meet shipping guidelines). In the event Marvin is providing the replacement parts, Marvin will determine which method of shipping is most appropriate to meet the customer's needs.
